That Matters.

PROTECTING THOSE THAT PROTECT YOU
AWP WINDOWS AND DOORS CONTINUES THEIR LEADERSHIP POSITION AS THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE BY OUTFITTING MIAMI BEACH'S NEW LIFEGUARD STATIONS

Miami, FL, April 20, 2016 – AWP Windows and Doors, the window and door manufacturer who's products have built Miami Beach over the last 58 years, announced this week that they have been selected to outfit Miami Beach's new lifeguard stations with their large missile impact products.

"AWP is honored to be selected to protect the life savers of Miami Beach. Miami Beach and its landmarks are iconic to Miami and the State of Florida, it's no surprise they chose the most iconic brand in Miami. Our products helped build Miami Beach, now they also protect those that protect you." commented Craig Speed CEO of AWP. "The City and the architect could have chosen any manufacturer, they chose AWP to be the first line of defense. Bigger isn't Better, Better is Better!"

William Lane, principal of William Lane Architect Inc, Miami Beach's architect for the project commented: "AWP produces great products and provides excellent service. We are very happy!!!"

"The belief that Bigger isn't Better, Better is Better is really taking hold as South Florida's premier window and door dealers are moving to AWP at a rate we have never seen" said recently retired GM Joe Escribano, "they want a partner focused on them, one that puts them first, and that's AWP."

"It's about the quality and capability of the AWP products", said Ignacio Escobedo, VP of Manufacturing of AWP, "the sun, the salt, the wind and heat present a constant barrage in this extreme environment and our products meet the test. No manufacturer provides the same value as AWP, Architects are now taking advantage of this opportunity".

"We'll not be beat on quality, responsiveness or value. Projects in Miami Beach not quoting AWP are missing a great opportunity" said Stewart Struzer, VP of Commercial Sales.
